GET-TOGETHER DINNER

Tyer Rubber Company Department Representatives Hold Dinner and Discussion at Phillips Inn. Acting Chairman R. E. Nash Outlines Purpose

Never before in the history of the Tyer Rubber Company has such a great step been taken to form a more complete cooperation between the management and the employees than that which took place at the Phillips Inn last evening.

It was a real get-together, the main purpose being to discuss the problems, if any, confronting everyone employed at the Rubber Company. Ralph E. Nash, employment manager, acted as chairman and after the supper, made a few introductory remarks, outlining the purpose of the meeting, and what could be done to bring about a more complete cooperation between all departments, the employees and the management. General discussion then took place and interesting facts relative to the betterment of all concerned in regard to better all-around cooperation were given a general weighing out.

Although it is the first meeting of its kind ever held by this particular concern, every representative was so enthused over the prospects arising from this meeting that other meetings of a similar nature will be held at intervals.

THE CHURCH CAMPAIGN

Committee Confident of Success Regardless of Hard Work Ahead in Securing Quota. Fund Will Provide for Many Necessities

Campaign work is still in progress in the local Congregational churches for their share of the five million dollars Pilgrim Memorial Fund. The South church will undoubtedly reach their apportionment of eighty-six hundred dollars, but considerable work is ahead of the finance committee to secure the quota.

Nearly three thousand dollars has already been subscribed, but this includes eight hundred dollars which was contributed to the annuity fund two years ago. Further particulars may be secured by consulting with the minister, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow and contributions will be gladly received by him or members of the finance committee.

Woman's Food Conservation Committee Accomplished a Great Public Service in the Past Three Seasons

Mrs. J. Harry Kidder, as chairman, wishes to express the sincere appreciation of the Woman's Food Conservation Committee to Mr. McDonald, for the use of the store on Essex street used as headquarters, to the Lawrence Gas Company for the use of a range; to the Baptist church for tables, and to the Guild for chairs.

As the committee is about to disband, it seems worth while to mention some of the things accomplished. During the season of 1917 the members of the committee attended the canning school which was held at Hathorne fortnightly, and with great enthusiasm absorbed a valuable fund of knowledge on this timely subject. Through the Girls' Canning Clubs and the work at the community kitchen, every girl and woman in Andover, was given an opportunity to share this knowledge, and its helpfulness has been far-reaching. In fact, the good seed is still growing and the number of well-informed, skillful canners is increasing each year. The success of the first season was largely due to Mrs. Bernard M. Allen, who proved not only an efficient chairman, but a tireless worker. The community kitchen was open three days a week and was carried on by volunteer workers, one of the committee taking charge of the kitchen and directing her helpers. The compensation was one pint of canned goods for each hour's labor.

The second season the community kitchen was open from three to six days a week and was in charge of a paid worker, many of the helpers being children. Under Mrs. LeBoutillier the stupendous task of filling two thousand, one hundred and sixty jars with fruit and vegetables was accomplished. After paying the workers, the products were sold and in addition to the necessary work of conserving the food supply, a profit was realized on the enterprise.

A satisfactory increase of two hundred dollars per annum, beginning the first of January of the coming year, has been voted on by the school committee, and all teachers, except those of the Pynchard High school engaged by the trustees, will benefit by this recent increase.

The increase will bring the salaries, except in a few cases, up to eleven hundred dollars per year, and brings the Andover teachers again on the level with other teachers in towns with a population similar to Andover's.

The problem of the caring for an increase for the teachers employed by the trustees of the High School, is a serious one, and it is possible that the town may be asked to assume the salary of another trustee-engaged teacher, in order that the income available may be used for increases for their teachers. The flat increase of two hundred dollars brings Andover teachers up to within one hundred dollars of Lawrence, and the special committee and the school board of Andover, will revise the whole salary question upward, for presentation to the citizens at the annual March town meeting.

The special committee, Dr. Edward C. Conroy, chairman; Dr. Alfred E. Stearns and Miss Mary B. Smith, appointed at the last regular meeting of the board, reported, and the board unanimously accepted their report and voted the increases. The selectmen concurred in the amount recommended. The report of the special committee:

First—That the salaries of all teachers be increased by the sum of $200 each, beginning January 1, 1920.

Second—That the selectmen be consulted prior to the adoption of the above resolution.

These votes were based on the following considerations:

The resolution from the Teachers' Association called for $1000 as a minimum salary beginning September 3rd. To grant request in this form seemed to the committee unwise, as there are no available funds for this purpose, unless they be obtained at a special town meeting. Furthermore, it was discovered that living expenses of the teachers in Andover, had actually increased thirty-

TREMONT

In a theatrical season notable for the high standard of its offerings, there will be no more potential attraction to be presented in Boston than that distinguished actor, Mr. Leo Dietrichstein, who comes to the Tremont Theatre for a two weeks' engagement, beginning

Monday, October 27th, during which he will be seen in the greatest histrionic triumph of the year. This is the sensational modern drama from the French of Henri Lavedan, the noted dramatist and member of the French Academy, entitled "The Marquis de Priola." When

Mr. Dietrichstein produced this play in

New York last winter, it was unanimously praised as the greatest of modern sociological dramas, while the acting of the star in the leading role was acclaimed as the outstanding exhibit of the art of acting seen on the American stage in a theatrical generation.

"The Marquis de Priola" is an enormous play—a huge gripping story of decadent autocracy—and discloses

with startling reality the downward tendencies of those who adhere to ancestral perversion and to the theory that rank excuses profligacy and debauchery. The Marquis de Priola is an autocratic voluptuary, who glories in the fact that he is the last of a long line of decadent ancestry who had participated in every beautiful, voluptuous and tragic drama in the past five hundred years. He is a modern Don Juan who believes that every woman is susceptible to his irresistible charm. The career of this degenerate is shown with a fidelity

that points a moral and adorns the tale.

This great play will be presented by the great star with all the charm and distinction that characterized his production in New York. Mr. Dietrichstein brings his identical original production and the splendid supporting cast, which includes Brandon Tyan,

Orlando Daly, Earle Mitchell, Lily

Cahill, Ann MacDonald and Josephine

Hammer.

COPLEY

"The Truants," a three-act comedy

of English life and written by Wilfred

T. Coleby, will be next week's play to be presented at the Copley Theatre.

The play was first produced in London

at the Kingsway Theatre by Miss Lena

Ashwell, the famous English actress-

manager, who played the leading role,

that of Freda Saville, a woman of advanced ideas, and who has written a book entitled: "Old Beliefs of the New Age." Freda arrives from the far East bringing with her little Jack Carstairs,

who is said to be the child of her friends who were killed in an uprising. Freda is engaged to Dick Chetwood, who is the owner of Nethercote Grange in England. He in turn is the brother of Bill Chetwood, a young man of a roving

nature who has seen life in South America, and has not a very high estimate of some women, Pamela Grey, a girl of nineteen years of age, has fallen in love with Bill, and has planned to elope with him to South America, but Freda tries to induce her to give up this plan. Failing to influence Pamela, she tries to persuade Bill to marry the girl, but he refuses to listen to her argument, and threatens that if she further tries to meddle in his affairs he will reveal her past history, which, in fact, is that the child Jack is none other than her own.

There is a stormy scene between the two, which ends in a pistol shot which wounds Bill in the arm. Eventually,

of course, everything turns out all right,

and there is no obstacle to Freda marrying the man of her choice despite her past. The play has some strong moments and some novel character drawing. There are excellent parts for Miss

Newcombe, who plays Freda, Miss

Ediss, Mr. Joy, Mr. Clive and Miss

Roach. The part of Bill Chetwood will be played by a newcomer to the Henry

Jewett Players, Percy Waram, who is sure to make a good impression. He has had splendid experience in the companies of Sir Beerholm Tree, Arthur

Boucher and Sir Charles Windham, and in this country he has played with Mr.

Faversham and Miss Elliott.

HOLLIS

"Mis' Nelly of N'Orleans" the latest triumph of Mrs. Fiske begins its second week at the Hollis Street Theatre, where it has been acclaimed the greatest example of comedy acting yet done by out peerless American actress.This comedy, which is presented by Messrs. Cohan and Harris, is the work of Laurence Eyre, a Philadelphia author, and has given Mrs. Fiske a genuine opportunity to create a masterpiece of high comedy acting."Mis' Nelly" is not only the best of Mrs. Fiske's comedy creations, but the role runs a gamut so embracing that it virtually concentrates all the qualities of her previous portrayals. She is no longer the Mrs. Fiske we knew as "George Sand," or as "Erstwhile
Susan," nor yet Mrs. Fiske of "Becky
Sharp" or "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh."
She is Mrs. Fiske the woman, brilliant, radiant, richly human, charming,
dazzling and magnetic; a bit of a madcap at times with her whimsical mood
and capricious tomboy tricks, but always vivid, scintillating and spontaneous; more essentially Mrs. Fiske than she has ever been in any other comedy role she has ever essayed. In her inimitable portrayal of "Mis' Nelly" there is all the sparkle of "Becky Sharp," the fineness of "Divorcons" and the brittle-ness and high comedy of "The New York Idea." She injects as well, the broader comic spirit of "Erstwhile Susan," the human appeal of "Salvation Nell" and the virtuosity of "Madame Sand."A fine cast supports Mrs. Fiske and includes Hamilton Revelle, who is remembered as Mrs. Leslie Carter's and Olga Nethersole's leading man; Georges Renaud, a young French actor, who is appearing on the English speaking stage for the first time; Joseph Green, Dorothy Day, Gertrude Chase,
Eva Benton, Ezra Walck and Clarissa
Stem.He finally settled at North Chelmsford, and being outside our Merrimack Valley Association, perhaps did not exchange often with Andover. Boxford and West Newbury was succeeded by his longest pastorate at Lime-Brook Parish in Ipswich, where he remained for thirty-one years, resigning at seventy-nine in 1917.He married twice but only two of his five children attained maturity,—a son who died at twenty in 1905, and a married daughter in Indiana in 1907.
C. H. A.Some day it may be a common thing for Mr. American Hustleman and his friends who are planning a recreational dash through the air to arrange with the Weather Bureau for daily reports, so that the flight can be undertaken without risk of running into bad weather, but to date weather reports for aerial touring parties are a relatively new thing.
Just now the Government is interested in such an expedition which started from Portland, Me., September 27, and,
if all goes well, will end at Pensacola,
Fla., in December, after visiting more than a score of principal cities on the Atlantic coast and in the Ohio and the Mississippi valleys. The flying boat
"NC-4" is the craft taking this journey,
the object of which is to secure recruits for the United States Navy. When the flying boat stops at regular Weather Bureau stations the lieutenant in charge of the expedition has the weather maps and forecasts placed at his disposal by local Weather Bureau representatives.
At other points the complete morning and afternoon reports are telegraphed from convenient weather bureau stations to the fliers.The Weather Bureau also furnished

Air Travel 136 Years Ago

From among the yellow pages of a copy of The New York Times of April 29, 1883, there comes to light an article in the form of a prophecy which, although delivered in a light vein, has already been fulfilled. The article deals with the possibility of aerial travel, which at that time was not even seriously thought at that time was not even seriously thought about—indeed, the writer of the now time-worn article was liberal enough to look forward to the year 2000 when the perfection of some mode of aerial travel might be accomplished. He then vividly describes the new transformation, as airships of various sizes and shapes sail overhead. Excerpts from his article fol-low:
"A previsionary peep at the year 2000 can scarcely be taken without providing in imagination for the probable perfection of some mode of aerial travel. As inevitably as blossom follows bud, the blind crudities of balloon and airship will be followed by some simple and practical plan of aerial navigation. The Engineer (London) argued that no agent of propulsion for air carriages has yet made its appearance. Steam is excluded, because water, coal, and engine are too
heavy for aeronautical purposes; electricity, because the wires operating the motor must be connected with some source of energy on the surface. Hence, argues The Engineer, man is eternally tied to the earth.""With the time ever come when the air carriage will be adopted for popular use.
Imagine the transformation. Landing places would have to be provided upon the roofs of our large buildings, and at given hours during the day the air above
our heads would be alive with gaily painted cars, fashioned in the shapes of birds of various species and decorated in imitation of plumage. Now and then one of these birds is seen rising from the roof of a distant building, to float away into the blue ether upon a journey of fifty miles, perhaps, to the home of its occupant, in the open country. Anon
one of these wonderful birds descends upon a distant roof and alights. Every newspaper office possesses among the equipments of its news department half a dozen or a dozen of these aerial cars, ready to carry reporters upon their expeditions to scenes of accident or disaster. Pleasure cars capable of carrying a dozen or a hundred passengers wing their way across the distant azure of the sky of a sunny afternoon. In a word humanity has become a being of two worlds. Strains of music drop from passing pleasure boats in the dim twilight like notes out of heaven; laughter comes trickling down in bubbles from the upper air; sweet voices are heard above our heads."New, strange, absurd, and impracticable as it all seems, there is no real reason why the problems of aerial navigation should not be as thoroughly mastered within the next fifty years as those of ocean navigation now are. The elements of a practicable airship all exist in the resources of modern invention; the only thing required is to put them together and produce the perfected structure. It is mere reverie, perhaps, to imagine that man will ever become a winged animal, but there is no insuperable scientific difficulty in the way of practically navigating the atmosphere,
nor need it be supposed that fatal accident or disaster would be more frequent than it is in surface travel.
Man is only tied to earth by his own terror, not by any invincible obstacles to rising above it."The marvelous achievements of these so-called "air carriages," especially during the last few years, were undreamed of thirty-six years ago. They have played their part in the war, the Atlantic Ocean has been crossed withouta stop; rivers, seas, mountains, and deserts have been crossed; we have aerial delivery and passenger service, and about the only fields left to be conquered
by the airplane are the north and south poles. And by the time the year 2000 rolls around, perhaps the housing situation of the country in general, and New York in particular, will have been practically solved through the inauguration of direct aerial commutation from the planets to the earth.

It Is Inconceivable

It is inconceivable that there should be any possible opportunity for the election of R. H. Long to the position of Governor of Massachusetts. We may promptly pass by his claim to ability as a business man, or his knowledge along any particular line, and come to the real issue that is involved in the campaign that will close on November 4th,—the issue of whether or not any man who is willing to concede lawlessness, who will promise everything, who will misrepresent any issue, who will take advantage of any situation provided he can get some votes out of it, is fitted to seek the position as Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

It is inconceivable to think of Massachusetts voters as standing for a minute for this sort of campaign in the critical times that now confront the nation. It has long since passed from a discussion of organized labor methods, of the rights of one man to do and another man not to do, of the power of government to control, of the right of the masses to assert themselves, or any other of the many sideights that the soap-box orator attempts to discuss. We are now up to the one thing of whether Massachusetts is going to say to the world that the first State in the Union to define organized government still knows what that means, and still stands in support of it, and in the support of the man who is giving it a new birth in these troublous times.

Governor Coolidge should receive a rousing majority, not because he is against anybody, not because he is for any faction; not because he must pass sentence against, not because he must make approval of; but entirely because he stands before the world as the exemplar of the faith in law and order which Massachusetts has ever represented, and which under his leadership has received such a splendid new dedication during the past few months.

Editorial Cinders

With the honest objector, or with the strong partisan who believes he must stick to his ticket because of his long established feelings on political matters, one never feels inclined to be very much at odds. There is a type of chronic off-horse, however, who cannot be so lightly passed by, and Andover appears to have a little bunch of that sort, using a particular store as headquarters, that ought to be tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a rail pretty soon, unless they talk less, no matter how they continue to act. These men are not very many in number, and as far as noise is concerned, it is confined to about one, but they express sentiments about as near to sedition as can be found in hardly any Bolshevik meeting that will be held in the United States on the coming Sabbath. Like many of the parlor socialists who cumber the earth, the most serious offender is a man who neither toils nor spins, but lives on the income of money accumulated by somebody else, and thus thinks he is secure from any effects of industrial unrest. It is going to be time pretty soon for this particular individual, and perhaps some of his cohorts, to be jacked up with a round turn, and when that jacking comes the town of Andover should be better off because it is rid of this kind of public nuisance.

We are too easily losing sight of some of the other important issues in connection with the coming election, than that involved in the choice of Governor. That indeed is the one transcending issue, but we must not forget that the job cannot be fully done by simply endorsing Governor Coolidge. An office that ought not to be overlooked even thus early in the campaign is that of Senator from this district, for which the Republicans have named a most excellent candidate in the person of ex-Representative Butler of Lawrence. Mr. Butler is a clean man in every respect, well educated, of long experience in the Legislature through his membership from Lawrence, a business man of high character, the son of a highly respected family in a neighboring city, and the type of a man that should appeal to Andover voters. To know him is to like him; to know him well is to trust him thoroughly. He should have a big vote here in Andover.

Better "English"—well, it is certainly worth while for all of us, and if anyone can bring such an improvement about, Amen! and well done! The particular point now in this connection is the announcement by Mr. Douglas Crawford of a course in "Historical English Grammar" for a class now forming, to take up some of the otherwise idle evenings this winter. Andover people are fortunate in the leader of this class and in the opportunity afforded.

Pretty October Wedding

Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Ward, 78 Lowell street, a very pretty October wedding took place, the contracting parties being Miss Mabel Foster Ward and Russell Joel Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Foster of Methuen.

The house was attractively decorated with autumn leaves, cut flowers and potted plants and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Newman Matthews of the West church in the presence of the families and immediate relatives.

The double ring service was used and Miss Hazel Foster, sister of the groom, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Miss Mildred Foster, another sister of the groom was bridesmaid and Earl Tener of Methuen was best man.

The bride looked very pretty in a beautiful gown of white georgette crepe. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of pale pink georgette and she carried pink roses.

Two cousins of the bride, Earl Foster and Virginia Foster, were the ring-bearers, and Mrs. James Marshall of Arlington, sister of the bride, Dora Ward, Bessie Rea, Lucy Rea, Ruth, Mildred and Rachel Foster, were ribbon bearers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held and the happy couple was showered with congratulations and best wishes. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Foster. A wedding lunch was served.

Both are well-known and popular young people. Mr. Foster is employed as an electrician in Methuen. They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable gifts, including a big check to the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Foster left on a wedding trip and on their return will live at Marston's Corner, Methuen.

Enjoyable Whist Party

Indian Ridge, Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., held a very enjoyable whist party in Odd Fellows hall last Monday. The party followed the regular business meeting and at 8.15 o'clock the members and their friends played progressive whist at a dozen tables.

At the close of play, refreshments were served by the entertainment committee: Mrs. Ira Buxton, chairman; Mrs. Charles S. Buchan, Mrs. Frank S. Valentine, Mrs. George W. Mears, Mrs. Carl Elander, Mrs. Frank Holt, Mrs. Frank M. Smith, Mrs. Thomas E. Rhodes, Mrs. William Faulkner and Miss Charlotte Hill and William Brown, Ira Buxton and Frank Holt.

Overseers Guests at President Wood's Home

President William M. Wood of the American Woolen Company tendered the overseers of the Washington, Wood, Ayer and Prospect mills a banquet at his summer home, "Arden," in Andover Saturday. Over two hundred and fifty were present.

Following the banquet, President Wood addressed the gathering, telling what the American Woolen Company was doing for the employees of the fifty-seven plants which employ forty thousand sixty-four hands. He told of the insurance plan by which the employees are insured without any cost to them; of the building plan whereby they can get a house built by the American Woolen Company and paid by the employee from his weekly wage. Mr. Wood complimented the course of Alderman Peter Carr and City Marshal Timothy O'Brien during the past strike. He urged the overseers to cast their ballots for Gov. Calvin Coolidge in recognition of the "splendid manner in which he handled the Boston police strike situation."

Baptist Ladies' Mission Circle

The fall work of the Baptist Ladies' Mission Circle opened with a meeting at the vestry, October 16th, when eleven ladies were present. There were devotional exercises of prayer, scripture, and a reading on prayer. Several items of business, relative to the reading contest of the missionary societies, the jubilee offering, the Southern barrel and other matters were brought up for discussion and decision. It was voted to enter the reading contest, taking up the following books: "The Crusade of Compassion" (study book); "Christian Americanization" (study book); "Comrades in Service"; "Helping the Helpless in Lower New York"; "A Challenge to Life Service."

The program, on Christian Americanization, served as an introduction to the use of the study book on that subject. To give some idea of work done by the Woman's American Baptist Home Mission Society, a screen had been decorated with posters regarding Christian centers and mission schools, a map showing districts and stations and sheets bearing the number and nationalities of people worked among, and the society's motto,—"Christ in Every Home."

Brief accounts of successes and advance of home missionaries, of needy fields and new endeavors, were given by Miss Wilbur, Miss Todd and Mrs. Jackson, and the service closed with earnest prayer to be shown the work this mission circle can do in this great new task before the church, of Christian Americanization.

Course in Historical English Grammar

The first meeting of the class will be held in the Pynchard School building, Thursday evening, November 6th at 7.30 o'clock. It is planned to have the course consist of twelve lectures, with some study of Old English and Middle English grammar, a little easy reading in both these fields, and some reading in reference books to be placed in the Memorial Hall Library. (The complete list of these reference books cannot yet be given, as there may be some difficulty owing to the war, in securing copies.) It is planned to have the meetings come on the following dates: November 6th, 13th 20th; December 4th, 11th, 18th; January 15th, 22nd, 29th; February 5th, 12th, 19th. If, however, it proves more convenient for the members of the class to have it meet on Monday evenings, a change can easily be made.

The subjects of the lectures will be as follows:

1. Formation of Speech Sounds.
2. Sound Changes, Indo-European Relationships.
3. Umlaut. Verbs, Nouns, Vanishing Sounds. Grimm's Law.
4. Grimm's and Werner's Laws. (Accent, Consonant Shift.)
5. Double Declension of Adjectives. Peculiarities of the Germanic Verbal System. Sound Laws.
6. Anglicization of English.
7. Sound Changes in Old English. (Umlaut, Lengthenings, etc.)
8. Sound Changes in Old English. (Nouns, Adjectives, Verbs, etc.)
9. Scandinavian and French Influences.
10. Middle English 1150-1500.
11. Middle English Dialects.
12. Chaucer to Dr. Johnson.

Two small text-books and a note-book are all that one joining the class need purchase. These books, with the assignments in them, are as follows:

1. Sweet, H. An Anglo-Saxon Primer, (Oxford, 1905.)
- (Assignments: (1) pp. 7-14; (2) pp. 15-19; (3) pp. 19-22; (4) pp. 30-33; (5) pp. 22-29; (6) pp. 33-36.)
2. Liddell, M. H. (Ed.) Chaucer. (Selections), (MacMillan, 1908.) (Assignments: (7) pp. xxxvii-xli; (8) pp. xli-xlv; (9) pp. xlv-li; (10) li-lxix; (11) pp. li-lxii; (12) pp. lix-lxxi.)

If those who wish to join the class will drop me a card, I can have the books ordered at the Bookstore. It might be wise at this point to correct an impression that may have been made in connection with the announcement of the course. The suggestion that prizes be offered for those of the class who were teachers in the Andover Public Schools, who passed most creditably in an examination, was not made as an inducement for people to join the course. It was rather made with the idea that, through this course, the School Committee was furnished with an opportunity to show a material appreciation of the extra work that some of the teachers would be doing.

Christian Endeavor Union Meets at South Church

Edward P. Gates, the newly elected secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, visited the South church, on Thursday evening. He takes the place of William Shaw of Ballardvale, recently resigned, and this is his first tour of the New England States.

Mr. Gates, formerly of Washington, was educated for the bar, and has practiced law in Chicago, but has been interested in Christian Endeavor work for a great many years. He is a facile and a good speaker. The points of his address, the subject of which was "Christian Endeavor as Applied to Community Life," were illustrated with appropriate anecdotes well calculated to catch the interest and stimulate the enthusiasm of young people. After his address he was quickly surrounded by a group of Christian Endeavor workers whom he has a happy faculty of engaging in helpful conversation.

The six societies of the Andover Christian Endeavor Union from the North Andover, Free Baptist, West, Ballardvale and Old South churches had supper together in the South church vestry, the arrangements being made by a united committee, of which Miss Paul of North Andover, was chairman.

Increase Promised Local Firemen

The vacancy made by William Baker of the local fire department has not yet been filled, but a driver of the hook and ladder truck is expected sometime the latter part of the week.

Monday, the Selectmen and the Board of Engineers talked over the matter of wage increase and it was stated by the Selectmen that the maximum wage asked by the firemen could not be granted for lack of funds and these could only be provided by a special town meeting which the selectmen considered inadvisable at this time.

A substantial increase, however, has been promised and this may be acceptable to the permanent men, but the maximum amount asked for will be expected by the men at the beginning of the fiscal year, in January.

Driver Albert Cole, who also had secured employment elsewhere, will remain at the Central Fire station for the present with the understanding as with the other permanent men, that the engineers and selectmen provide a way for the full increase the first of the year.

Elected Clan Johnston Chief

At the meeting of Clan Johnston 185, O. S. C., held Friday night in Garfield hall, Chief Robert Williams resigned because of business duties, and Past Chief Robert Dobbie was elected to fill out the unexpired term.

Automobile Accident Proves Fatal. Man Fined for Assault. Other Occurrences

While walking in the vicinity of P. J. Hannon's farm on Elm street, Sunday night, about ten o'clock, John Abercrombie of Ballardvale was severely injured by a Ford car driven by James J. Morris of Lawrence.

Mr. Abercrombie was immediately removed to the Lawrence General hospital where at that time his condition was reported as dangerous and Monday morning, the local police department received word that he had died from internal injuries.

Miss Isabelle Lamont of Lowell street, was thrown from her bicycle when hit by a machine driven by Miss May Bartlett of Central street. The accident occurred on North Main street at about 11.30 o'clock Saturday morning. It was discovered that the young girl received injuries to her hand and knees.

Frank Ward of Main street, was before Trial Justice Albion Pierce, Saturday on charges of drunkenness, profanity and assault.

The complainant, E. Dagnault of Lawrence, who was conductor on the last car in which Mr. Ward was a passenger, claims that the defendant caused considerable disturbance while riding under the influence of liquor and furthermore, showed resistance when ordered to stop. The charges of drunkenness and use of profane language were placed on file, but a fine of ten dollars was inflicted upon him for assault.

Douglas Hutcheson of Summer street was in a slight accident last Saturday morning, when an automobile plunged into his Ford truck near the bank building. The damage was slight.

Red Cross Drive for Membership

The American Red Cross will seek the reaffirmed allegiance of the American people in its Third Roll Call from November 2nd to 11th.

The membership of the American Red Cross to-day is approximately twenty million, not including the eleven million junior members. In the states of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, there are a million and a half members. While no definite quota has been set for the Third Roll Call, it is hoped that the ranks will be kept filled and thousands of recruits added for 1920.

Congress has prolonged the responsibility of the Red Cross abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the Red Cross several million dollars worth of medical, surgical and dietary supplies "to be used by the American Red Cross to relieve and supply the pressing needs of the countries involved in the late war." The Red Cross must have further financial support to enable it to distribute these supplies in countries where, because of the ravages of war, famine and epidemic the distress is most pronounced, as in the Balkans, Poland, Siberia and other countries. Without the $15,000,000 fund the Red Cross will be unable to administer this necessary foreign relief, which may protect our own Nation from the disaster of epidemics. There are also 30,000 American soldiers wounded during the war still in the hospitals in this country and the Red Cross must continue to render service to them.

Each of the 3,724 Chapters in the country will raise a quota of this fund, and will in addition ask support for carrying out its part of the Peace Program, which includes public health nursing, home service, educational work in dietetics, home care of the sick and first aid, preparedness for disaster relief, children's activities through the Junior Red Cross, and the new health center plans. The New England Division quota of the National fund is $1,330,000.

Many soldiers and Red Cross nurses who served overseas will take part in the campaign. The Massachusetts Branch of the American Legion has pledged its support to the Roll Call in the following resolutions:

"The Red Cross by its activities during the war in behalf of service men has endeared itself to the American public and is now helping to solve many problems in which the American Legion has a vital interest.

"We, therefore, resolve that the Massachusetts Branch of the American Legion, in convention assembled, express its deep interest in, and pledges support to, the Third Red Cross Roll Call."

Everyone who renews membership or joins during the Roll Call will be given a 1920 button and 1920 window service flags will also be given out. A service flag should glow from a window of every home in the land when the campaign closes.

Ladies' Aid Society Supper and Sale

The harvest supper and sale which the Ladies' Aid Society of the West church held on Thursday evening, was a most successful entertainment. The decorations were pretty and the tables loaded with the golden pumpkins filled to overflowing with the fall fruits, the red apples, with the tiny flags as favors, made a pleasing picture. The good things served were of the sort that have made West Parish cooks famous. The candy table was well-stocked and well-patronized as was the apron and fancy work table. After supper Miss Dorothy Shephard of Reading, with Mrs. Shephard as accompanist, gave a fine musical entertainment which was a delight to all and added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

Obituary

MRS. LOUISA WILDER (BOUTWELL) MERRILL

At the mortuary chapel in the West Parish cemetery on Monday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, were held the funeral services for the late Mrs. Louisa W. (Boutwell) Merrill, the wife of the Rev. James G. Merrill, D. D., and the interment was made in the family lot. An impressive feature of the services, which were conducted by Rev. Newman Matthews of the West church, was the rendering of the organ of several familiar tunes that had been used for many years at family worship in the Merrill household. The tunes were played by a longtime friend of Dr. Merrill, Rev. M. M. Cutter of Cambridge, who played their wedding march fifty-three years ago.

For some time past, Mrs. Merrill had been in failing health, and the end came at Mountain Lakes, New Jersey, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Perley Macfarland, wife of Rev. Charles S. Macfarland, the general secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. She was born in the West Parish on Candlemas Day, 1840.

In Andover, the early years of her life were spent. She was educated at Abbot Academy and later taught in the public schools of the town. She followed swiftly into the heavenly world, her older brother, Samuel H. Boutwell, who had died less than two weeks earlier. Two sisters survive her: Mrs. Parthenia Holt and Miss Mary K. Boutwell, who live on Bartlett street. Of her own family, besides her husband, she is survived by three children: Oliver B. Merrill, Summit, N. J.; Mary P. Macfarland, Mountain Lakes, N. J.; and William F. Merrill, Brookline, Mass., who is connected with the Youth's Companion Company. Another daughter, Mrs. Boynton, the eldest of the children, and wife of Henry W. Boynton, at one time an English instructor in Phillips Academy, died in 1899.

Fifty-three years ago she was married to Dr. Merrill in the West church at nine o'clock in the morning by his father, Rev. James H. Merrill, who had a long and fruitful ministry in the West Parish. At once bride and groom set out for pioneer missionary work in Kansas, bravely facing the inevitable privations of that work in those early days. Together, through all the years they worked in the cause of religion and education. With all the varied responsibilities and undertakings of her husband, as home missionary and superintendent of home missions, as pastor of large city churches, as editor of the Christian Mirror, as president of Fisk University, she was intimately identified. To all these she gave her thought and interest and devotion. It has been a fruitful life in many different positions she has lived.

Strong ties bound them both to the West Parish and Andover, and so in the declining years of life, its strenuous work, being over, they recently returned to the membership of the West Church, even though but few of the friends of their early life have survived the more than half-century that has passed since they went away. In what more beautiful spot could their bodies be laid away when both shall rest from the labors of earthly life! N. M.

Natural History Society

The regular meeting of the Natural History Society was held Tuesday evening in the lecture room of the Punchard school. It was announced that the subject for the November meeting would be "Ponds of Andover" and for the December meeting "Stars." Mr. Brewster very generously offered to lead several extra meetings with a group of persons wishing to study the stars.

The subject for the evening was "Deciduous Trees." Mr. Gutterson was the first speaker and told about the nut-bearing trees, such as the beech with its beautiful gray trunk valued in the manufacture of furniture, as well as for fuel; the butternut, which curiously has a sap as sweet as the sugar maple, although it cannot actually be reduced to cakes of sugar and whose wood makes a handsome inside finish; the hickory, whose wonderful hard, strong wood, weighs, when dried, fifty-two pounds to the cubic foot and is the approved material for tool handles and many parts of agricultural implements; the sweet chestnut, the trunk of which sometimes attains three feet in circumference, a tree beautiful with its fragrant catkins when in bloom, and beloved by the small boy in autumn. Mr. Gutterson illustrated his talk with pressed specimens of the leaves and blossoms of each variety.

Mr. Fred E. Batcheller spoke on "Fruit Trees," enlivening his remarks with numerous anecdotes.

In the absence of Omar Chase, who was to speak on "Shade Trees," Miss Florence Abbott described our four native maples, showing the leaves of each.

After a short discussion the meeting was adjourned.

Officers Elected at Andover Club Meeting

The Andover club met Saturday night in their rooms in the Musgrove building, and elected officers for the ensuing year. George L. Averill, president, was in charge, and reports of the clerk, Harry Sellars, and the treasurer, Samuel P. Hulme, showed the club to be in a satisfactory condition.

The following officers were elected: President, George L. Averill; vice-president, David R. Lawson; clerk, W. Dudley Yates; treasurer, Samuel P. Hulme; board of directors, three years, Dr. Edward C. Conroy, Everett C. Hilton; two years, Frank A. Buttrick, Andrew McTernan; one year, Samuel D. Berry, V. D. Harrington. Harry Sellars declined a re-nomination for clerk.

PUNCHARD NOTES

Nashua Boys Triumph Over Local High School Team. Costume Party This Evening. Eleven Battles Lawrence Tomorrow

The Punchard high school football team suffered its first defeat of the season when it journeyed to Nashua, N. H., last Friday afternoon and lost to the strong high school aggregation of that city by a 20 to 7 score.

The game furnished much excitement throughout, with both teams working for every single score until the final minute. The Punchard team played excellent ball although losing to a better team.

The Lawrence high school eleven will meet a stiff proposition tomorrow afternoon when the strong Punchard team lines up for gridiron honors at the former's grounds at three o'clock.

Both teams suffered defeat last week and are out for victory in this engagement. Lawrence played Newburyport last Saturday, the latter winning by a 12 to 2 score. Punchard played them to a scoreless tie in their opening game of the season, so the local followers have reasons to expect Punchard to return victorious after tomorrow's game.

The sophomores of the Punchard high school will tender a reception to the freshmen this evening in the high school hall.

The reception will be strictly informal and will be in the form of a masquerade. Buckley's orchestra will furnish music for the evening's affair.

Wedding

HINES—ELDRID

St. Augustine's church was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday afternoon when Margaret Eldred of 139 North Main street, and Joseph H. Hines of 19 Elmsmere avenue, Methuen, were joined in wedlock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John J. Nugent at four o'clock.

The bride wore a traveling suit of reindeer color with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Florence V. Eldred was bridesmaid and wore a blue traveling suit with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pinks. Thomas H. Mahoney was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Eldred, for the relatives of the couple.

The bride is a registered nurse and a graduate of the Long Island hospital. For years she engaged in her profession, and was wellknown throughout Lawrence.

The groom served eighteen months overseas with a motor mechanic unit. They left on a wedding trip and upon their return will reside in Methuen.

Tuesday Club "Charity Tea"

If you have put off buying your ticket for the charity whist and tea in the town hall next Tuesday afternoon, it is not too late to secure one now from any member of the Tuesday Club. It will even be possible to secure admission by paying at the door.

The only thing you must bear in mind is, that your absence will be noticed, for everybody is going, and you don't want to miss this opening social event of the season.

If you don't play cards, come at four-thirty, to sip a friendly cup of tea and listen to some delightful trio music.

As it has been found that a war tax is necessary on the tickets, a box will be placed at the entrance to the hall, and all those who would be glad to relieve the committee of their embarrassment at this unexpected expense, are asked to drop their five-cent tax into the slot.

LUCY H. SANBORN

Surprise Party

George Brown was surprised by a number of friends on Saturday evening at his home, the event being in honor of his reaching his majority. The young people assembled at the house and when Mr. Brown entered the living-room he was greeted by a group of laughing friends, much to his astonishment.

During the evening, which was pleasantly spent in games, Mr. Brown was presented with a sum of money, with which he later purchased a watch chain. At the close of the evening refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mrs. Prudence Brown, Helena Wells, Margaret Cronin, Catherine Leary, Anna Kyle, Alexina Harris, Eva Mehlman, Alta White, Louise Coates, Earl Moody, Dwight Moody, Fred Cronin, Joseph Clinton Samuel Moody, Fred Shattuck, Foster Matthews, John Mason and Fred Buckley.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Saturday when a large number of friends gathered at the home of James Nicoll on Clark road and tendered Miss Isabella Abbott a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to David Gordon of Andover.

A feature of the evening was a mock marriage, the different parts being taken by the following guests: bride, Gracia Prue; groom, Florence Abbott; bridesmaid, Annie Kibbee; best man, Alice Kayley; minister, James Gorrie; Miss Mary Caldwell played the wedding march. Other games, music and a highland fling by the future groom made the time pass only too quickly. The different useful gifts furnished by the friends of Miss Abbott were presented by James Caldwell and James Gorrie, and the recipient responded fittingly. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The headquarters on Essex street was open at definite hours for the distribution of literature, and the person in charge was always glad to answer questions. The committee also arranged many interesting demonstrations not only by its own members but by such well-known teachers as Portia Smiley and Miss Nellie Ewart.

This year a few housekeepers have taken advantage of the conveniences at the community kitchen, to hire it by the day and do canning not only for home use, but for sale. Mrs. Philip Moor and Mrs. George Buchanan had the opportunity to make an advantageous purchase of peaches from an Andover farmer. These they canned in large quantities and had no difficulty in disposing of the goods. They now have for sale several dozen glasses of apple and grape jelly at twenty-five cents a glass.

There has been a great demand this fall for home-canned fruit and vegetables, but few persons have a surplus which they wish to part with at any price. Here is undoubtedly an opening for some enterprising person who wishes to start a business of home-canning.

Former Andover Graduate Dead

William Paine Sheffield, Republican national committeeman and former Congressman, of Newport, died Sunday afternoon at his summer camp, Miskiant, on Lake Yawgoog at Uspenough. Dr. E. E. Kanyon of that place, pronounced death due to heart failure. Mr. Sheffield was sixty-two years of age.

Mr. Sheffield was born in Newport on June 1, 1857, the only son of the late William Paine Sheffield and Lillie White (Sanford) Sheffield. His ancestors on both sides were among the earliest settlers of New England and were among the first families of the State to hold positions of honor and trust. His father was a United States Senator and an expert on constitutional law.

Mr. Sheffield attended the private school of Henry H. Fay of Newport, with Rev. W. McDonald as instructor. From there he entered Phillips Academy where he fitted for college, entering Brown University in 1873, and graduating in 1877 with a degree of A. B. The degree of A. M. was conferred three years later.

For some years past, Mr. Sheffield had devoted his time almost exclusively to his private law practice. He was the senior member of the Newport law firm of Sheffield and Harvey, his partner being William R. Harvey.

As Congressman from the First Rhode Island District in the Sixty-first Congress, Mr. Sheffield gained national prominence. He was known in this State from his efficient service as a member of the General Assembly from Newport for several terms.

Conserve and Develop our Forests

State Forester Frank W. Rane says, "There are few, if any problems of greater moment and more economic importance to New England at the present hour, than that of forestry. There are those still living, who have seen beautiful primeval forests, dotting the hills and valleys everywhere throughout this rugged and beautiful country. Year by year these forests have succumbed to our mad rush of uneconomic commercialism, until today finds us in a sadly depleted and irrational condition. Second growth, inferior but valuable, has followed where conditions have been favorable, which in time has been utilized as soon as it reached merchantable size. During the recent war, New England was fairly gone over with a fine tooth comb for forest products for every conceivable use, and with results only too well known to all business men.

We have in New England, a natural forest country that will respond to forestry development as readily as any country on earth. We are dependent upon the forest crop to continue our innumerable industries located everywhere, throughout our five states. In 1910 it was ascertained that this state alone converted 550,000,000 feet of rough lumber a year, into finished product, this being only that portion which, after it leaves the saw mills, is further worked by machinery.

Each of the New England states has its forest policies, and is feeling its way toward greater accomplishments. Much more has been done than most people realize. Massachusetts, for example, has enacted laws aiding forestry in the following ways: expert advice at no expense, except travel and subsistence; free forestry literature, a forest warden in each town, thirty-five forest fire lookout stations, young trees grown in State nurseries, sold at cost to citizens and municipalities, as well as giving aid in many other ways.

A few Andover citizens have been farsighted enough to devote a part of their land to this important work of conservation. Almost the first re-forestation done by the State ten years ago, was on the land of the late John H. Flint in West Andover near Haggett's Pond. Unfortunately, this was burned over about three years after the young trees were set out. The largest tract where this work has been undertaken in this vicinity is what is known as Falls Woods where Jenkins and Butterfield land, adjoining similar land in Middleton, has been reforested with white pine, making an area of about two hundred acres, which is under the care of Alvah P. Wright, fire warden for that district. Land in the vicinity of the Ballardvale Lithia Springs, near the Wilmington line, has been planted by its owners, the Lightfoot Company.

Trees planted now will grow and increase in value, like well-invested money.

A fair amount of flat work is necessary to obtain these rates. If this is not sent, an extra charge of 10 cents per hour will be added to ironing of wearing apparel.

No starched shirts, collars, cuffs, lace curtains or woollen blankets allowed on this list. These we do only at regular list prices.

ANDOVER WINS GAME

Andover Team Strengthened by Return of Captain Adams. Leo Daley's Injury Forces Him to Retire

Full of confidence and pep the Phillips Academy football team administered a defeat Saturday to their heavier opponent, the New Hampshire State Freshmen.

The game produced more or less old-time football with casualties aplenty and every man fighting for all he was worth in what was marked as the hardest, cleanest-fought game of the season.

The Freshmen team fought hard for victory, but as in most cases, "the best team wins," such was Saturday's case.

But if Andover showed any signs of inferiority, it was in the offensive, as they possessed the lighter attack of the two. The home team was forced to kick on several occasions after being held for downs.

Captain "Bud" Adams featured at quarter and to him belongs a great deal of credit for what resulted.

He caught the ball on the kickoff and made thirty yards and in the third period, with the ball on the New Hampshire's 34-yard line, made successive attacks which netted the Blue team the winning score. Smith kicked the goal.

Wingate and Neidinger were out of the game, but Leo Daley whose injured condition kept him on the side lines most of the game, replaced La Tulippe for just one play and was then forced to retreat to the bench.

Andover will journey to New Haven tomorrow and play the Yale Freshmen, which was defeated last Saturday by Exeter, the score being 17 to 7.

This will give the football enthusiasts of both towns a better comparison of the two rival academy teams who will clash the first part of next month.

The lineup and summary of last Saturday's game was as follows:

ANDOVER N. H. STATE '23
Akerley, King, le le, Neville, Morris
La Tulippe, Daley, Reed, Bates, lt

Score: Andover 7. Touchdown, Adams. Goal from touchdown, Smith. Referee, John C. Twomey. Umpire, F. M. Boyce. Head linesman, M. E. Peck. Time, two 12m. and two 10m. periods.

METHUEN

Monday, Oct. 20—The Ladies' Auxiliary of Division 21 A. O. H., will hold a guest night and Halloween party on Thursday, October 30th. Each member of the organization is entitled to bring a friend. The Mount Vernon Athletic and Social club will hold its first concert and dance in Nevins Memorial hall on Friday evening. Mr. D. Sarabian, a native Armenian, gave an address at the evening service at the Baptist church. Mr. Sarabian was with the French army in Palestine for two years as a soldier and his experiences were illustrated with some eighty views by the stereopticon. A silver collection for the Armenian Relief fund was taken.

Ernest G. Hoppood, principal of the Girls' Latin school, will give a course of four lectures on every other Thursday, beginning Thursday, October 23rd, on "Problems in Current History," under the auspices of the Teachers' Club. Sunday afternoon at five o'clock an afterglow service was held at the First Congregational church when Rev. P. H. Epler, D. D., gave a short sermon. Arthur Brooke, flutist, of the Boston Symphony orchestra, rendered several numbers and Harold Dawson sang two selections. Candidates for office at the coming city election are launching their campaigns. There are now three candidates for mayor: Mayor Samuel Rushton seeks re-election, Councilman-at-large James W. Riley is also a candidate for the office, and former Selectmen Henry Dean is also in the race. The primaries take place November 11th. A banquet will be served in Odd Fellows hall at 6:30 o'clock followed by a special meeting in Masonic temple. Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lippold and daughter, Miss Irma, of East street, left early this week for Jacksonville, Fla. They are to make the trip by automobile and will visit several places of interest on the way. The Methuen Historical society will be open to the public Wednesday and Thursday afternoon from three to five o'clock; if rainy the following week. Miss Weibell recently appointed as librarian at the Nevins Memorial library has assumed her duties. Tickets have been issued and can be obtained from the members. The committee in charge of the entertainment has secured some fine talent for the evening. Mrs. W. E. Gaskin and daughter, Miss Elsie of Derry, N. H., visited over Sunday at the residence of Mrs. E. F. Johnson in Ditson place. Mrs. Gaskin is the widow of Rev. W. E. Gaskin, a former pastor of the local Universalist church.

Thursday, Oct. 23—Mrs. Samuel G. Sargent of Tremont street leaves the latter part of this week for Fitchburg, where she will spend the winter months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles T. Woodbury. Assessor and Mrs. Henry N. Hall have returned to their home in Walnut street after spending the last few weeks at the home of relatives in Maine. Coach Richard Nicholson had the high school football team out for practice yesterday afternoon on the playstead. This is the first practice of the week, the boys taking a day off after the game with Puncard on Monday. At the Johnson game while the locals defeated Johnson by a small score the team did not play as well as in some of the earlier games when they suffered defeat. The linesmen did not open up the holes in the Johnson line that they should have and in fact depended to a great extent on the backfield to break up some of the plays that Johnson started through the line. Saturday afternoon the team goes to Newburyport where they will play Newburyport high school.

The Story of a Turret Captain
Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1899 A. F. Nilsen enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class. In April 1907 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $165.76 per month.

A man's life — among men!

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and afloat that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Short leave to see loved ones at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.

mittes, David Shaw, treasurer of the church; Frank L. Brigham, treasurer of the parish and Frederick H. Jones, M. M. Converse, Myron E. Guttererson and Harry A. S. Read.

The Free church's apportionment is seventy-seven hundred dollars and more than a third of this has already been pledged. Pledge cards have been distributed among the members of the congregation and although a house-to-house canvass will not be made, members are urged to help the cause by telling their friends. Pledge cards may be secured from the pastor, Rev. F. A. Wilson, or Frederick B. Goff, treasurer. Both churches have five years in which to raise their quotas.

The West church has already raised its apportionment and has gone over the top.

The fund will be used to provide annuities for aged ministers of the Congregational denomination and such a fund is absolutely necessary if a high standard is to be maintained and young men of ability induced to enter the ministry.

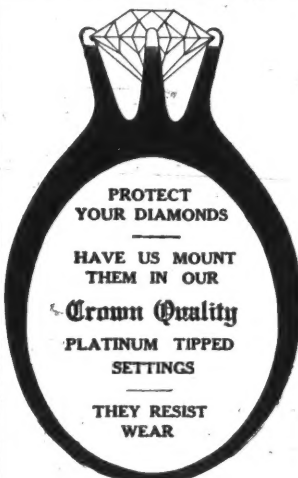

It will be well to bear in mind when contrasting the present day conditions of the ministry with that of former years the following from the Boston Herald: "Another reason for the shortage in the clergy is that the critics in church measure by ten thousand dollar standards the minister they pay eighty-three dollars and thirty-three cents a month."

White-Hall Garage
59-61 PARK STREETNow is the time to fix that leaky roof.*WHY REYNOLDS SHINGLES ARE THE BEST:

Reynolds shingles were the first asphalt shingles made.

They have had more years actual roof-test service than any other asphalt shingle.

They have been on roofs for eighteen years and are still found to be in good condition.

They are surfaced with granulated rock, slate, etc., and the natural colors are retained — reds, greens and gray — non-fading, beautiful.

Reynolds shingles are guaranteed — They will not split, rust, curl, leak nor blow off.

Economical to buy, economical to lay, no repairs or painting required.

Reynolds shingles possess the three cardinal shingle virtues — Beauty, Durability and Economy.

The mineral surfacing acts as a fire-preventive, making an insulation against flying sparks and brands. These shingles have been tested in the insurance underwriters laboratories and have been officially approved as fire-retardants.

Do not be misled into thinking all Asphalt shingles are alike — They are not. There are as many grades of Asphalt shingles as there are names. Reynolds shingles are the improved, approved, and proven best to use.
